

Gloucester County 4-H Youth Development is...

- A fun, educational club program for school age boys and girls without regard to race, sex, handicap, color or national origin.
- A place outside of school where children can explore and develop their talents and skills to help guide them on their way to becoming responsible adults.
- A “Learn by Doing” program of club, county and state activities, directed by trained volunteers and professionals.
- Available in all communities; urban, suburban and rural (no registration fees or uniforms are required).
- Your county’s youth development program sponsored by Rutgers Cooperative Extension, and the Gloucester County Board of Chosen Freeholders.
